PAKHTOON FORCES WAR WITH PAKISTANI TROOPS

Execution Of 17 Nalgonda Reds Stayed

NEW DELHI, May 26 (UPI): Execution of 17 Communists of Nalgonda Hyderabad was stayed by the Supreme Court of India today pending judgement on a petition for special leave to appeal filed by the convicts under Article 136 of the Constitution.

All the 17 Communists were sentenced to death by the Nalgonda special Court. Their sentences were confirmed by the High Court of Hyderabad on December 14, 1949. The High Court also refused the convicts' certificate for appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Communists have now filed a petition for special leave to appeal, under Article 136 of the Constitution. This Article provides that the Supreme Court may 'in its discretion grant special leave to appeal from any judgement, decree, determination, sentence or order in any cause or matter passed or made by any court or tribunal in the territory of India'.

DISTRIBUTION OF PENICILLIN Control May Be Lifted

BOMBAY, Friday, (UPI): "The Government of Bombay will remove the control on the distribution of penicillin, the life saving drug, if they are satisfied that there is no scope for black-marketing," said Shri Dinkarrao Desai Minister for Civil Supplies, Government of Bombay, in an interview to the United Press of India, today.

In that case, the Minister added, the price control and the licence control would continue to remain in force.

The Civil Supplies Minister further said that with the arrival of large stocks of penicillin from foreign countries, the position of penicillin had considerably improved in the Bombay State. "We are watching the situation and if circumstances justify, we shall be only too glad to remove the control on penicillin," he stated.

He further said that Bombay's share of the total consignment of penicillin imported by the Government of India from abroad was 33 per cent, out of which, he said, Government would take over 1/3 of the controlling quota and pass on 2/3 to the trade for distribution provided they agreed to market it on the conditions laid down by Government.

JOINT REHABILITATION BOARD FOR FIVE STATES

Government Move For Better Co-ordination

NEW DELHI, May 26. (PTI). The Government of India have decided to set up a joint rehabilitation board for West Bengal, Bihar, Assam, Orissa and Tripura to ensure greater co-ordination and expeditious disposal of work between the Central Government and the State Governments concerned.

A similar board is already functioning in the case of Punjab and P.E.P.S.U.

Several schemes for the rehabilitation of displaced persons from East Pakistan have already been sanctioned and others are under consideration. For the success of these schemes, it was felt that the closest possible liaison should be maintained between the Government of India and the various State Governments. The newly created board would provide this liaison.

The board would meet periodically to review the progress of the work done in each State and to discuss the new schemes to be undertaken.

The Central Minister of Rehabilitation will be the chairman of the board.

The next day, Pakistan forces attacked near Wana, but were again repulsed, they added.

LIGHT SHOWERS IN 24 HOURS

Forecast For City

BOMBAY, Friday: South-West monsoon is expected temporarily to advance into Karwar and Goa within the next two or three days, according to a weather expert at Santa Cruz.

The weather expert based his forecast on the basis of the depression in the bay of Bengal which continues to move north-westwards and its influence on the tempo of the monsoon.

Bombay City for the second day in succession lay under a cloudy sky this evening, while the dusk was marked by crimson light.

The early morning drizzle over parts of the island on Friday did not materially affect the day's temperature. The maximum of 92 degrees, recorded at the Colaba Observatory was described by the weather experts as normal. The minimum of 82 degrees stated to be three degrees above normal.

The weather expert forecast light showers in the next twenty-four hours over some parts of the city during morning and evening. The ghat might experience thundery condition in the evening.

SCHIPHOL AIRPORT (Holland), May 26 (PTI-Reuters): Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands returned here today by a special Royal Dutch Airlines plane from their four-day visit to France.

FATHIA DEFIES KING FAROUK

Marries Commoner

Behind Locked Doors

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26. (PTI-Reuters): Princess Fathia, defying her brother, King Farouk of Egypt, married at a Muslim ceremony here Mr. Riad Ghali, a commoner and her mother's political adviser.

Sixty-year-old Queen Mother Nafsa, a Muslim missionary from Pakistan, performed the ceremony behind locked doors guarded by police in a big banquet hall of the Mark Hopkins Hotel, known as "The Room of the Dons".

Sixty-year-old Queen Mother Nafsa stood at her daughter's left, hand during the ceremony and occasionally she wiped tears from her eyes.

About 50 guests attended.

Riad Ghali early in the ceremony changed his religion from Coptic Christian to Muslim.

The bearded Bashir Ahmed Minto, who is an Imam—said in a 40-minute oration which preceded the wedding: "It is for the woman to decide the man she wants. It is for the man to decide the woman he wants. Islam wants to level all these things. Anyone who wishes to make distinction is very unjust."

The couple went through a civil ceremony last month. This aroused King Farouk's wrath and he annulled that ceremony and deprived the princess, who is 19 of her royal privileges.

HE IS QUITTING THE U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26 (PTI-Reuters): Riad Ghali, Egyptian commoner who is planning to marry Princess Fathia, sister of King Farouk under Muslim rites on Sunday has told migration authorities that he will leave the United States by June 1.

This was announced yesterday by Mr. Bruce Barber, San Francisco Director of the United States Bureau of Immigration and Naturalisation who said he was not interfering with the couple's wedding plans.

Fireworks Explosion: No Sabotage

GWALIOR, May 26 (PTI): The recent explosion in a fireworks factory in Sarafa near Gwalior which took a toll of fifteen lives, is not suspected to be a case of sabotage.

This is the finding of the District Magistrate of Gwalior who submitted his interim report of enquiry into the disaster to the Madhya Bharat Government, today.

"Nothing could be detected to warrant the suspicion of sabotage," he said, although it could not be ascertained up to now how the fire broke out.

Appeal To Attlee And Truman

DURBAN, May 26 (PTI-Reuters). The South African Indian Organisation today appealed to Mr. Attlee and President Truman to use their influence with the Union Cabinet to abandon the Group Areas Bill.

Cables sent to the British Prime Minister and the United States President described the Bill as "an insult and affront to the Indian people and the Indian Republic and Pakistan."

Petrol Rationing Ends In Britain

CAR PRICES SHOOT UP

LONDON, May 26 (PTI-Reuters)—Britain today abolished petrol rationing. The Parliament was told that America oil companies had agreed to bring in additional supplies for sterling, on condition the rationing was dropped.

Britain began petrol rationing on September 23, 1939.

Prices of cars in Britain—some of them already enormous—are expected to sky-rocket after today's abolition of petrol rationing. The news gave an immediate tremendous boost to the London Stock Exchange which reacted smartly with a jump in oil, tyre and motor accessory shares and with smiling faces in the Exchange lobbies.

PETROL RATIONING TO GO SOON?

Paper And Cement Decontrol Likely

(From Our Special Correspondent) NEW DELHI, May 26: As economic conditions are returning to normalcy, Government of India is actively examining the problem of controls. According to reports here control on paper and cement and petrol rationing may be lifted in the near future.

Paper position has considerably improved and production of paper and paper board now averages 92 per cent of the installed capacity of the mills as against 89 per cent in 1948. Cement production is now 75 per cent more than in 1946. Government's intention, however, is to lift these controls gradually.

Petrol rationing, however, stands on a different footing. Availability of motor spirit depends primarily on foreign exchange, storage capacity and transport facilities. The Railways, during the last two years, have constructed large number of tankers and oil companies have also added to their storage capacity.

Mr. N. V. Gadgil, Minister for Works, Mines and Power, it will be recalled, has had prolonged discussions with the representatives of the oil companies thereby securing an annual saving of Rs. 375 lakhs a year. Britain's decision to exclude oil purchases from dollar areas has helped India to purchase oil from sterling countries thus overcoming the difficulty experienced due to shortage of dollars.

As announced yesterday the Government is examining the decontrol plan. Indicating are that petrol rationing will be lifted in port towns and basic as well as supplementary ration in the interior will be increased. If the transport position is guaranteed petrol rationing may be lifted all over the country within three months. A Government announcement in this respect is expected within a week.

RIOTING IN JAIL OFF MANILA

12 People Killed

MANILA, May 26 (PTI-Reuters)—Two thousand prisoners rioted at Muntinlupa penitentiary, 28 miles south of here today and at least eleven prisoners and one guard were reported killed.

Prisoners seized the armoury, which caught fire and burned down after police and prisoners had exchanged fire.

Police and Government forces surrounded the area and quelled the riot, reports said. They believed no prisoners escaped, but all police outposts were alerted.

The jail has about 5,080 prisoners.

TOO VAGUE

The full bench of the Supreme Court today ordered the release of two Punjab detainees, Messrs. Mehr Singh and Char Das, on a habeas corpus petition.

The Judges held that the grounds of detention supplied to the detainees were "too vague and indefinite."

The detainees were charged with "Communist" and "subversive" activities.

MR. A. P. JAIN TO REPLACE MR. SAKSENA

NEW DELHI, May 26 (PTI). MR. AJIT PRASAD JAIN, M.P., has been appointed to succeed Mr. Mohanlal Saksena as the Minister for Rehabilitation of the Government of India at the end of the month, it is officially announced.

A communique issued from the Government House this evening said: "The President has accepted the resignation of the Honorable Shri Mohanlal Saksena from the Council of Ministers. The resignation will take effect at the end of the month.

The President, on the advice of the Prime Minister, has appointed Shri Ajit Prasad Jain, Member of Parliament, to be a Minister of State."

A subsequent communique from the Cabinet Secretariat announced: "Shri Ajit Prasad Jain, M.P. whose appointment as a Minister of State has been announced today, will succeed Shri Mohanlal Saksena as Minister for Rehabilitation, when the latter relinquishes office at the end of the month."

The President has sent the following message to His Excellency Shri Sri Prakasa, Governor of Assam:—

"On the eve of your relinquishing your present office I wish to express my deep appreciation of your work as Governor of Assam and look forward to our continued association in your new role of Cabinet Minister for the Union."

U. S. RESTRICTIONS ON RUMANIAN DIPLOMATS

Retaliatory Measure

WASHINGTON, May 26 (PTI-Reuters)—The United States today clamped tight restrictions on the movements of Rumanian diplomats in the United States.

Rumanian officials would not be allowed to travel more than 35 miles beyond the borders of the district of Columbia, without first obtaining special permission from the State Department, Mr. James Webb, Under-Secretary of State announced.

He told a news conference the move was in retaliation for actions taken against the American legation in Bucharest by the Rumanian Government.

(From Our Special Correspondent) NEW DELHI, May 26: Reports received here indicate that following the decision of the American Shipping Conference, British and European Shipping Conference Lines have rescinded their decision of levying 25 per cent surcharge on all freight booked for Bombay port.

The surcharge it will be recalled, was levied last year on account of abnormal congestion in Bombay port.

MADRAS BAN ON BOMBAY PAPER QUASHED

Supreme Court Judgment

NEW DELHI, May 26. (PTI). THE Supreme Court today quashed the ban on entry into Madras State of "Cross Roads", a pro-Communist Bombay weekly. This was the first case in which violation of article 19(1) (A) of the Indian Constitution which confers the right to freedom of expression, was alleged.

The full bench of the Supreme Court gave the verdict by a majority of five to one in favour of petitioning journal.

The Supreme Court also held that the precensorship order on "Organiser", a Delhi journal, was invalid. The two judgments thus invalidate Section 9 (1-A) of the Madras Maintenance of Public Order Act, and Section 7 (1) (C) of the East Punjab Public Safety Act.

These were two of the twelve judgments delivered by the Supreme Court today on the eve of closing for vacation till September 11.

Others included the rejection of the habeas corpus petition of Dr. N. B. Khare, President of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha, challenging a three-month externment order of the Delhi District Magistrate, and the rejection of the Bharat Bank's appeal against the award of the All-India Industrial Tribunal for reinstatement of dismissed employees.

Two detainees from the Punjab who were charged with Communist activities were ordered to be released, while the habeas corpus petitions on behalf of three Bihar detainees were rejected.

Observations relating to fundamental concepts like "security of the State" and "sedition" were made in the judgments given today. Mr. Justice Patanjali Shastri opined that unless a law restricting freedom of speech and expression was directed

RUSSIA STILL HAS FAITH IN U. N.

Mr. Lie's Impressions Of Cold War Tour

LAKE SUCCESS, May 26 (PTI-Reuters). MR. TRYGVE LIE, United Nations Secretary-General, declared today that he thought the Soviet Government still had confidence in the United Nations and wanted it to function properly.

LOCUST MENACE LOOMS LARGE

Careful Watch Being Kept On Movement

NEW DELHI, May 26 (PTI)—Reports received during the week ended May 2 show a sudden increase in the locust population in Rajasthan and Saurashtra, an Agriculture Ministry press note today said.

Since breeding was still in progress in parts of Baluchistan and Southern Iran, a greater influx of locust swarms might be expected shortly.

The danger to cultivated areas at present, according to the press note, is not great as there are few standing crops. Locusts will, however, start breeding during the monsoon.

A careful official watch is being kept on the movements of swarms, so that breeding may be detected as soon as it starts, and adequate measures taken in time.

Khare's Appeal Dismissed

NEW DELHI, May 26. (PTI): The 'habeas corpus' petition of Dr. N. B. Khare, President of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha, was dismissed by the Supreme Court today. The judgment was not unanimous, two judges dissenting from the majority view.

Dr. Khare had challenged the three-month externment order served on him by the District Magistrate of Delhi when he came here on April 1 to attend a meeting of the Working Committee of the Mahasabha.

The Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Fazal Ali and Mr. Justice Shastri held that the order was valid.

BOMBAY, Friday (UPI): Mahatma of Navanagar and Vice-Admiral Pary met Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Deputy Prime Minister of India, at the Birla House today.

Sardar Patel is leaving tomorrow afternoon by a special plane for Forbandar.

The Secretary-General was giving his first press conference here since his return from his "cold war" talks with Generalissimo Joseph Stalin, British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and French Premier Georges Bidault.

Mr. Lie doggedly refused to reveal anything of the substance of his talks with the political leaders.

He was asked by an American correspondent: "When you were in Moscow, did you get the impression that the Soviet Union still has confidence in the United Nations and wants it to continue as a working organisation?"

"Yes," said Mr. Lie, but refused to say how the Soviets had demonstrated that they still had this confidence.

"That was the secret part of our conversation," he said.

MAIN DEADLOCK

The Secretary-General was closely questioned about the deadlock caused in the United Nations by the battle over Chinese representation.

He said the situation was "about the same" as it was when he left Lake Success a few weeks ago.

"But this question must be settled before the General Assembly," he added.

He added that no date had yet been set for a meeting of the Security Council on this issue, but added: "I still think this must be settled in June or latest in July."

Mr. Lie refused to say anything about the talk he had in Moscow with the Ambassador from Communist China. He also declined to comment on whether the two or three months delay in the settlement of the Chinese deadlock had any connection with possible military action on the Chinese Nationalists' last stronghold of Formosa (Taiwan).

NO MESSAGES

Other points made by Mr. Lie during his press conference here were:

1. He did not take any message from President Truman to Premier Stalin nor bring any message back from Moscow to Washington.

Two. He had left a number of memoranda with the various Governments along his route and expected they would need two or three months to study them.

Three. His trip was entirely "an exploring mission". He wanted to find out if the cold war was just going on month after month, year after year, with no end but ultimate disaster.

Four. His visits were not negotiations. They were "a succession of exchanges of views and of ideas."

MOST SERIOUS

In a prepared statement read to the conference, Mr. Lie said: "The situation is a most serious one... The longer the present deadlock continues, the more serious it becomes. I have called this the year of decision both for United Nations and for the future peace of the world.

"We must begin a new effort this year to bring the cold war to an end through the United Nations or we shall face the grave danger that the world will be set finally on the road that leads to a third world war," Mr. Lie declared.

He said he found Premier Stalin not much changed in four years and as "sharp" as ever.

PLAYED MANY ROLES, BUT ARRESTED AT LAST

Alleged Cheat Who Posed As An I.C.S. Officer

BOMBAY, Friday. Alleged to have impersonated various officials of the Indian Administration Service, and cheated a number of merchants in Bombay, Madras and Delhi, to the tune of Rs. 30,000, Shivraj Kapoor Shyamal was arrested by the Bombay C.I.D. in Itarsi and brought down to Bombay yesterday. His wife Shrimati Rajkapoor and his brother Shahadev Kapoor were also arrested along with him, for alleged abetment.

Among his many other roles, the accused is alleged to have posed as Mr. B. S. Puri, I.C.S., and Mr. P. N. Verma, I.C.S.

In December last the police received a number of complaints of fraud from about a dozen merchants in Bombay. In all these cases the first accused was alleged to have approached the merchants and introduced himself as Mr. B. S. Puri, an I.C.S. Official of the Government of India. There was also accompanying him a pen in the uniform of a Government chaprasi. Kapoor is alleged to have bought goods worth Rs. 10,000 against cheques drawn on a Delhi bank. The cheques on presentation to the bank were not honoured as they were said to have been taken from a stolen cheque book.

Similarly in April 1950, Kapoor is stated to have posed as Mr. P. N. Verma, I.C.S., Secretary to the Home Ministry, Government of India, and is alleged to have bought goods worth Rs. 10,000 from Bombay merchants and is said to have passed cheques drawn on a Delhi bank. These cheques were also returned with the same remarks.

During this period he is alleged to have obtained Rs. 4,000 from an insurance company by presenting false cheques. In these transactions Shrivastav is reported to have acted as his secretary and abettor. Kapoor is alleged to have repeated the same trick and cheated merchants there to the tune of Rs. 7,000 by posing as Mr. V. K. S. Raja, a high official of the Home Ministry. In Delhi Kapoor opened a bank account under the designation of an I.C.S. officer. His wife is said to have helped him in keeping up the pretence. Investigations are proceeding.

Four Years' R. I. And Nearly Two Lakhs Fine

EX-CONTROLLER OF STORES CHARGED WITH CHEATING 33 LAKHS

CALCUTTA, May 26. (PTI): Major J. Phillips, a former Controller of Telegraph Stores, Alipore, was sentenced today to four years' R. I. by the First Special Tribunal at Alipore on charges of criminal breach of trust in respect of Government of India's money amounting Rs. 1,99,000.

Phillips was also fined a total amount of Rs. 1,99,326 or in default to suffer rigorous imprisonment for three years.

Capt. A. J. Rodrigues, formerly Deputy Assistant Engineer of the Telegraph Store Yard at Alipore and a co-accused in the case, was sentenced to three years' R. I. and fined Rs. 14,000 on charges of conspiracy.

B. N. Biswas, another employee of the store yard was sentenced to one year's R. I. and a fine of Rs. 3,000 for conspiracy and aiding and abetting Major Phillips in the Commission of his offence. On the charge of abetment, two contractors, Edward Ezra and N. L. Dey were sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment for nine months and rigorous imprisonment for three years, respectively, and also to pay a fine of Rs. 30,000 each.

PROSECUTION STORY

According to the prosecution, Major Phillips was authorised, during the war years, to make local purchases on a limited scale for the telegraph workshop at Alipore. Early in 1943, some irregularities in connection with these purchases were detected by the accounts officer and the case was placed under investigation by the Special Police Establishment of the Government of India in Calcutta. It was stated that in making these purchases, Major Phillips, with the assistance of some of his staff, had flouted all the existing rules and regulations in this behalf and purchased articles at inflated rates to make out of it illegal gains both for himself and his favourite assistants and contractors. Some unnecessary purchases were also made.

As a result of this conspiracy, the prosecution added, the Government of India had been defrauded to the extent of Rs. 33 lakhs.

One of the accused Dasarathi Mukherjee, sub-store keeper under Phillips, died in course of the trial and another, Dhruva Banerjee, who became an approver, was discharged.

The Tribunal was presided over by Mr. P. R. Barucha, Bar-at-Law, Bombay.

LEAVE THE SMALL NATIONS ALONE

The Tito Way To Ease Tension

LAKE SUCCESS, May 26. (PTI-Reuters): Without making specific reference to Russia, Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia declared yesterday that the large nations of the world should not interfere with the internal affairs of the small nations.

He laid this down as one of three conditions necessary for the easing of international tension and for a possible basis of understanding among nations.

The two other conditions were that more encouragement be given to colonial peoples who were fighting for their independence, and the ending of economic or political domination of the world's under-developed areas.

The Marshal's statement was made in a special transatlantic telephone interview with the United Nations Correspondent's Association, which interviewed him in a new series of broadcast press conferences with leading political personalities.

TEACHERS' POSERS TO GOVERNMENT

Accept Our Demand Or Refer It To A Court

AHMEDABAD, May 26. (PTI): The sixth annual session of the Bombay State Primary Teachers' Association held at Nadiad yesterday appealed to the Government of Bombay either to accept their demand for changed salaries of primary teachers or refer the matter to the Industrial Court.

Mr. M. V. Donde, who presided over the session, stressed the need for establishing an All-India Primary Teachers' Association. He said that teachers would be ready to serve the country and humanity if their primary needs were satisfied.

By a resolution, the session decided to hold an All-India Primary Teachers' Conference in October.

By another resolution the session demanded the amendment of Article 171 of the Indian Constitution so as to enable the primary teachers to send their representatives to the State Legislative Councils.

The Prince was killed when a retreating terrorist threw a hand grenade. Another Malay was seriously wounded.

Members of the Negri Sembilan royal family and the commanding officers of the Malay Regiment were present when Latiff was buried with full military honours.

PROUD ACHIEVEMENT IN LABOUR FIELD

Motor Employees' Union's Record

BOMBAY, Friday. The Bombay Automobile Employees' Union is entering its fourth year with full confidence. Its record during the last year on matters relating to constructive trade union activities in economic and cultural fields and the credit goes entirely to the goodwill and enthusiastic co-operation of its members.

During the last year, fourteen industrial disputes were referred to Industrial Tribunals in respect of scales of pay, dearness and other allowances, bonuses, leave rules, provident fund, gratuity and other terms and conditions of service.

The Union has also achieved progress in collective bargaining directly with the Management of some of the automobile concerns instead of settling the disputes through adjudication machinery.

The most difficult problem that faced the Union was the retrenchment of workers as a result of import restrictions, devaluation, etc. The Union, however, fought for unemployment benefits for these workers for the likely period of unemployment. The Union knowing fully well that such unemployment benefits would not be sufficient, has constantly been trying to find suitable employment for these workers in other industries.

The Union is recognised by all the automobile concerns except General Motors India Ltd., and Bombay Garage Limited. With mutual consent the employers of Firestone Tyre and Rubber Co. Ltd. have now formed a separate Union called 'The Rubber Worker's Union' and affiliated to INTUC. A great task lies ahead of the Union and much remains still to be done to raise the standards of living of the workers.

LAKE SUCCESS, May 26. (PTI-Reuters): Israel had indicated her willingness to pay the United Nations 54,628 dollars as reparations for the assassination of Count Bernadotte, Palestine mediator, in Jerusalem in September 1948. It was learned here yesterday.

In a letter to Mr. Moshe Sharret, Israel Foreign Minister, Mr. Lie asked that Israel should (one) apologise to the United Nations; (two) intensify its efforts to apprehend and bring to justice the perpetrators; (three) pay the United Nations 54,628 United States dollars "as reparation for the monetary damages borne in connection with Count Bernadotte's death".

Mr. Lie arrived at the reparation total by listing up 28,048 dollars for funeral expenses and 26,580 dollars for administrative costs.

He reserved the United Nations rights concerning the French observer Colonel Andre Beret who was killed at the same time.

The Punjab Government has also sanctioned necessary funds for the provision of milk bar and mid-day meal in the model schools in almost all the districts of the State for feeding under-nourished children.

D. P.'s Do Their Bit In Punjab

It is estimated that the total amount spent on the raw material supplied to the trainees till April 30 was Rs. 4,78,000.

Finished articles worth Rs. 1,23,000 were sold till that date and articles worth Rs. 3,500 were in stock. About 8,000 displaced persons have already been trained in these vocational training centres.

GLEANINGS FROM THE URDU PRESS

PLEADING that Pakistan should be declared as a secular State, Mr. Mohd Sarwar, Editor of the Weekly "Alfaq" argues in his article that the Pak Premier has conceded the democratic concept of Pakistan State in the Minority Pact.

The point has further been reiterated in his speech before the American Parliament. In the context of these elaborate references the writer calls upon the Pakistan Government to declare Pakistan as a secular state so that all chances of misapprehensions about Pakistan's constitutional attitude towards the non-Muslims should be eliminated. The adverse propaganda against Pakistan being conducted in foreign countries in the name of her theocratic character would cease if it is declared in plain terms that Pakistan's sovereignty is borne by all the citizens of Pakistan. The representative legislators would enact laws, not necessarily repugnant to Islam because the majority of them would be Muslims.

The Pakistan State in one way can be called an Islamic State with particular reference to the Muslim majority of the population. Going in for the term "secular," the writer considers it more aptly correct from the constitutional point. The position, when taken as such, is likely to avoid all occasions of misunderstanding and misrepresentation. The Premier would also be spared the trouble of explaining the position time and again. But it is deplorable mentality that people in Pakistan regard the term "secular" as antagonistic to religion, degrading "Islam in danger." The change he so applied. The point of equal rights and equal treatment has been set out in the objective resolution. The only provision that singles out in favour of Muslims is that facilities would be given to them to lead life in consonance with Islamic injunctions. But this provision does not affect the secular aspect of the State if adopted. Turkey and Egypt also look after the Muslim interests in the field of education and religious endowments and regulate the cases of Muslim marriages and divorces according to Islamic law. But there has never been any indictment against these countries so as to their theocratic nature.

It is, therefore, high time that Pakistan should declare that she is as much secular as India is. The minorities would obtain all facilities—more than what are available to minorities in India.

Both of them look upon each other as alien element. The poorer among the refugees who have settled in the districts feel the impact of isolation move sharply because the cultural contrast is more clear, because of the poor numerical strength of the refugees in the rural parts where the local population desire that the refugees should immediately go back to India. Ten to twelve lakhs of refugees have settled in Sind whose total population is 3.5 millions. The writer has not failed to see the point that mere common creed in this modern age does not comb as much in every day life as the language, culture and manners and habits do.

Proposing remedy for this evil, he offers his counsel to the educated and well-to-do refugees that they should desist from deriving benefits from the ignorance of the Muslims in the backward areas of Pakistan. Issuing a warning to the refugees, he further clears the whole position that if the gulf continues to widen, the consequences would be as grave as have already been witnessed as a result of the Hindu-Muslim estrangement.

Emphasising the need of early elections in the Punjab, the weekly "Alfaq" writes that the enrolment campaign being over, there is need of holding elections without much loss of time since the present leadership is now practically defunct. As such, this suspense should not be allowed to drift any longer. Another point which is emphasized is that the elections of primary and provincial Leagues should be fair and impartial. It is deplorable that certain circles are trying to delay the election issue in an effort to stick to power, although the office-bearers of the League cannot now be called the right representatives of the League for which fresh enrolment has now been complete. Even in the enrolment campaign, there have been committed many irregularities. Several lakhs of forged forms have been filled up. This state of affairs would compel certain section to desert the League. Moreover, if the election issue is left to be supervised by the office-holders who have conducted the enrolment campaign, the League would go to grave. It is, therefore, desirable that the elections should be held under the direct surveillance of the Centre. If this is not carried out the League would be doomed.

Referring to the series of articles published in the "Statesman" of Calcutta and Delhi under the caption "Communism in Hyderabad," the same weekly presents the picture of the Punjab in much more similarity to that of Hyderabad where the eviction evil has brought in its trial the present Communist menace. The Zamindars of the Punjab have intensified their plan of eviction. The number of the tenants so evicted has risen to thousands in a few months. It is, therefore, much apprehended that the discontented tenants would create the same situation here as in Hyderabad.

RELEASE OF TRIBAL LEADERS

Resenting the action of the Baluchistan Government in effecting the arrest of Khan Sahib Dost Mohd. Khan Khosa, their Bhawal, Khan Khosa and Abdul Majid Khan Gola the weekly "Istiqal" of Quetta has revealed that in Nasirabad there are two parties with their political differences widely known even to the Governor and Premier of Pakistan. Under these differences, evidence was recorded in a mysterious way and the evidence subsequently led to the arrest of the tribal leaders. No hesitancy was shown in hand-cuffing and fettering them. Not a single instance of affront and persecution of this magnitude as witnessed in this case can be cited from the entire British rule. It is strange enough that the members of jirga and the tribal leaders have been oppressed under the plea of jirga. The arrested persons belonging to the nobility in Sind and Baluchistan exercise great influence over millions of people as accredited leaders and servants of the people. Their arrest is calculated as an attack on tribal prestige and an open outrage of civil liberties. It is a peculiar way of removing political differences that the leaders of one group are intercepted. Since the arrests have come off under extraordinary conditions based on unusual evidence, the entire administration and the tribal system are likely to be affected.

Deploping the wire-pulling tactics of the other group at whose instance the arrest of the notable figures of Sind and Baluchistan has come about, the paper writes that manipulation of Government machinery by "brother against brother" is intolerable, it being an ugly slur on the prestige of the entire province.

THE HAGUE, May 26. (PTI-Reuters): Mr. R. K. Sidhwa, Secretary of the Congress Party in the Indian Parliament, who is touring Europe, last night attended the Indonesia debate in the Dutch Second Chamber at the special invitation of the Chairman Dr. L. Kortenhorst.

Oxford Match Ends In Draw

WEST INDIES ALL OUT
FOR 127 RUNS

OXFORD, May 26 (PTI-Reuters).
The match between Oxford University and the West Indies was drawn, Resuming the first knock on a sticky wicket the West Indies were able to reply with only 127 runs to Oxford's total of 194. In the second innings Oxford scored 68 for 6 wickets and declared. Facing a deficit of 135 runs West Indies went in to bat and collected 30 runs for the loss of one wicket in their second venture at the close of play.

Ramesh Divecha, the Bombay fast bowler who is a student at Oxford was responsible for capturing four West Indies first innings wickets for just 45 runs. Jose and Henderson took 2 each at cost of 39 and 23 respectively.
The weather remained dull and cheerless here today and overnight rain left many patches on the pitch, but the resumption of the Oxford University and West Indies match was delayed by only a quarter of an hour.

On Wednesday the West Indies, in reply to Oxford's total of 194, scored 61 for the loss of two wickets. Rain prevented play yesterday.

On a pitch which did not look particularly difficult the West Indies batmen were for from comfortable and in two and a quarter hours play this morning only 64 runs were added for the loss of five more wickets.

At the interval the West Indies were 69 runs behind with three wickets to fall.
Weekes was dismissed with only five runs added this morning and when

CULTURE LEAGUE WIN BY A "GIFT GOAL"

B.E.S.T. Beaten By Odd Goal In Three In Harwood Football

A "GIFT GOAL" during the absence of the injured B.E.S.T. goalkeeper in the second half of play enabled India Culture League to gain an odd-goal-in-three win this evening in the Harwood Football League at the Cooperage. The game was marred by poor supervision and by some rough play, but the B.E.S.T. played a grand game.

India Culture League who claim to be the "giant-killers" of the season with their star-studded outfit which comprises Thomas, Parab, Laloo, Gowind, Woodcock and Narayan of Trades reputation, were playing dull football.

Woodcock was as usual holding the defence well and it must be mentioned that he received little support from his partner Mukerjee, who seems to be rather slow in his movement and he is neither sure of his kicks.

Among the forwards Parab was most impressive and he was seen to distribute the ball well. In the closing stages he did his best to get to the ball and connect with a shot to goal, but he missed on two occasions. But he scored both his side's goals. For the Tramwaymen everyman played his part well and goalkeeper Prabhakar gave a really grand display.

India Culture League were unable to call the time to red-shirted B.E.S.T. side who, in fact, were having a major share of the exchanges, but due to little of first class football temperament they lacked the idea of clever distribution which if done judiciously would have resulted in at least three good goals being scored in the initial quarter of play.

The Tramwaymen, who were using their wingers to less advantage soon realized their mistake and after Pimpalgaokar has missed one chance which went wide, Sawant sent in a stinger high into the net from about 30 yards out to beat Bhoja in the twentieth minute of play.

This early reverse for the India
Culture League was taken to heart and soon they were on the offensive to save their fair name. Two minutes later, Thomas put Parab through to score with a positive sifter.

From now on the Tramwaymen's goal had no fewer than three narrow escapes and Thomas once had a grave blunder committed when he failed to push the ball into an untenanted goal when Ray sent in a well directed pass. Laloo twice failed to get to the ball which was just moving across goalmouth. The first half was level.

India Culture League were finding difficulty in gaining the winning goal and well things looked pretty bad for them. Ray sent in a well directed pass. Laloo twice failed to get to the ball which was just moving across goalmouth. The first half was level.

Taking advantage of this situation
Parab took a shot at goal and beat
Brahmim easily with a ballooned shot.
The crowd, however, were not happy about this goal and this year's right men were given a cold reception.

With ten men, however, B.E.S.T. pressed, never giving up the struggle and I.C.L. were having a rough time.
After medical attention Prabhakar returned to play and from now on things didn't look rosy for I.C.L. they were trying hard to keep the B.E.S.T. away from their goalkeepers.

THE FINANCE MINISTRY

Mr. C. D. Deshmukh's selection for the Finance Ministry is one of those decisions which carry their own commendation. The Government of India has been undoubtedly strengthened by the choice. Mr. Deshmukh, it has been announced, will continue as a member of the Planning Commission. This removes the only serious objection to his taking on the Finance Portfolio, since his inclusion on the Commission added greatly to the prestige of that body both in India and abroad. In the past, it has been contended that it is not desirable to have an ex-civil servant as a Minister in a popular government. In Mr. Deshmukh's case, the advantages far outweigh any disadvantage that might arise on this account and it was a wise move on the part of the Government to have waived the objection in the larger interests of the country. There is particular reason to be happy at the way things have turned out because it was openly suggested that, after Dr. Matthal's resignation was accepted and it was known that Pandit Govind Vallabh Pant had refused the offer of a ministerial post, the Finance Portfolio was presenting difficulties. Mr. Deshmukh offers a solution which is both widely acceptable and not in the least open to question.

Since 1943 when he took charge of the Reserve Bank, Mr. Deshmukh has been closely associated with the finances of this country. If the Reserve Bank during its short life has succeeded in establishing itself as the disinterested adviser of the Government in economic matters, the credit is very largely due to Mr. Deshmukh. The research and agricultural credit departments of the Bank have more than proved their utility. The attempt by Deshmukh to move the finances of the country into the sphere of international schemes of post-war regeneration might justly be compared to the efforts of the Prime Minister in the field of foreign affairs. The steady accumulation of dollar and sterling balances was his work and it was laboriously done. And the frittering away of these resources was unfortunately effected against his solemn warning. The rigorous control of imports which the Government of India was forced to adopt in the middle of 1944 was a belated return to the policies he had advocated. After laying down the Governorship of the Reserve Bank, Mr. Deshmukh carried on his services to India in the international field where his genuine qualities have added greatly to the prestige of this country. Mr. Deshmukh now enters on the Finance Ministry ship during a period which is critical for India. The next two or three years require the devoted services of the best national talents. And there can be no question but that Mr. Deshmukh in the Finance Ministry is the right man for the job. By conferring on him this key portfolio, the Indian Government has at once recognised his rare ability and the pressing needs of the present times. The inclusion not only retains, it extends, the national character of the Indian Government because there is no other Indian who could bring as much to the Ministry as Mr. Deshmukh brings.

When the question of filling the Finance Ministry came up for consideration with the news that Dr. Matthal was quitting the Cabinet, speculation naturally hovered round the possibility of a member of the Congress Party or one of the other Ministers being chosen. It has been suggested that this was an attempt on the part of the Congress Parliamentarians to assert the party line. If it was, there is nothing wrong in it. As a key portfolio, Finance cannot be ignored and the idea that going out of the party would produce better talent, is normally rather fantastic. It is the basis of democratic government that ministers are not expected to be experts; they are the link between public opinion and the experts of the department. They are generally chosen for their initiative, capacity to take decisions, drive and inherent commonsense. It is a rare phenomenon that there should be a financial "expert" who has also shown in prominent degree the possession of the other qualities, and it is that which makes Mr. Deshmukh so well fitted for the office. In the past, if there have been Ministers outside the party, who have been embarrassed by Congress Ministers, there have been equally Ministers who failed to secure the full co-operation of their permanent officials. For the first, there is some reason because the men, who have acted as a rebuff to the Congress, presumably recognised their limitations. But for the second, there can be no excuse except the weakness of the Ministers and the arrogance of the service men. Mr. Deshmukh's appointment cannot be taken as a precedent because Mr. Deshmukh is unique as a civil servant. There are few who can be regarded as little bureaucrats—with all that the term connotes—as Mr. Deshmukh. And taken as a rebuff to the Congress Party which has enhanced its prestige by accepting the selection.

Advice To Nehru

Not unnaturally, the forthcoming visit of the Prime Minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, to Indonesia and other South-East Asian countries has evoked considerable interest in the democratic West. The situation in South-East Asia is causing the West a great deal of anxiety, even alarm and western statesmen are earnestly hoping that India's Prime Minister, with his great prestige and influence, help effect a reassuring change in the situation. One British M.P., Mr. Richard Butler, a prominent Conservative, has, of course, gone further and patronisingly advised Pandit Nehru to study the South-East Asian conditions and learn a lesson for India. Because of the "complex" and "difficult" problems facing this country, Mr. Butler would like Nehru to make India "move faster than the young U.S. did immediately after her independence," whatever that means. But the general idea, as more distinctly urged by others, is that Jawaharlal Nehru should help in saving South-East Asia from chaos and communism. India and her Prime Minister are themselves sufficiently interested in South-East Asian regions to be concerned about their present and future. They want those regions to progress and prosper, in stable conditions of life, in true democratic freedom and in peace and India's Prime Minister will be only willing, as he has always been, to render that cause every possible service.

But how are South-East Asian regions to be safeguarded against the "menace" that alarms the West, and quite rightly too? Major Woodrow Wyatt has suggested a conference of U. S., Britain, India and Pakistan to devise means of saving Indo-China, which, he correctly fears, is being lost. Conference or no conference, the whole problem centres on the right realistic—to say nothing of moral and just—solution. That solution is complete liquidation of French Imperialism and surrender to the people full democratic freedom. But the U. S. and Britain are not prepared to force French hands; they even strengthen them by recognising the Bao Dai regime. In Malaya too the crisis can yield only to a similar treatment: withdrawal of the political and economic domination of British interests and for the rapid conferment of popular freedom. Mr. Bevin says that it is the general policy of Britain. If it is, it has not been proved in practice. He is wrong to assert that the people prefer the British and their scheme of gradual bestowal of responsible Government. Such a scheme they know, only ensures against the realisation of freedom. India's solution is there for the West to adopt and it is the only solution. If the West means to save South-East Asia from the "menace" of what is described as "Communist Imperialism," what should be done is not to preserve Western Imperialism, but to liquidate it and help the peoples of the regions concerned achieve and enjoy that democratic freedom, which alone can prove an effective alternative to Communism.

Thought For The Day

I will be as harsh as truth and as uncompromising as justice. I am in earnest—I will not equivocate—I will not excuse—I will not retreat a single inch and I will be heard.

W. L. GARRISON.

Tête-à-Tête

WITHOUT COMMENT.

Mr. Bevin said the solution of the world of the future would be by conferences.

"It is going to be by regular and closer meetings. The more you meet the more you understand. You discuss a problem and it is the solution of the problem that grips you."

—British Parliamentary Report.

Advocates of Pandit Nehru's forthcoming visit to South-East Asian regions, the Conservative, Mr. Richard Butler, said in the British Parliament, "I can only hope that from his experience of that tour he will see that it is essential for India to move faster than the young U.S. did immediately after her independence, because the problems which India has to face today are even more complex and difficult than the young U.S. had to face."

"Thanks awfully for the valuable advice. And—er—er—which direction did the young U.S. move in after her independence?"

GAYA: Mr. Jayaprakash Narayan, Socialist leader, said here today that Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru had lost a good opportunity of establishing a kisan-Mazdoor Raj in India when he failed to make use of the unprecedented enthusiasm of the people at the time of the achievement of freedom. Where, we wonder, was Mr. Jayaprakash Narayan in the latter half of 47?

WASHINGTON: The President of the United States today said at a press conference that he knew nothing of Mr. Trygve Lie's "cold war" tour.

If Mr. Truman knows nothing of Mr. Trygve Lie's "cold war" tour then there is still some hope when he comes to know of it.

Soviet authorities, says a Berlin report, have promised the Western Powers that there would be no interference with their traffic on the Helmsstedt Autobahn—Berlin's life line to West Germany through the Soviet zone—during the Whitsun rally of half a million Communist youths in Berlin.

Now we are looking forward to the Whitsun rally of half a million Communist youths in Berlin with keener interest and excitement if possible.

But, of course, the Kuomintang still remains in unchallenged, stable possession of China and must not be replaced at the United Nations.

It is a choice between early and late inevitability for Tibet.

CITY CORPORATION: WEEK BY WEEK

By "Citizen"

THE CORPORATION has now adjourned for the summer vacation and is scheduled to reassemble on 22nd of June. The Special Committees have adjourned with the Corporation and only the Standing Committee is meeting every week as required by the Municipal Act. After approving the gigantic contract of rupees five crores and odd for constructing the dam connected with the Tansa Vaitarna Scheme the Committee is looking after more or less the routine work. This is, therefore the time for the Municipal Secretary's office to plan the work for the coming year.

This year the work requires a careful planning in view of the implementation of the Greater Bombay Scheme. When the Local Bodies in the suburban area ceased to function there were many important items pending before these bodies. On many of them decisions were taken but there was no time for carrying out these decisions. In certain other cases the schemes were half through. All these items will have to be gone into. And decisions will have to be taken on the same. If the schemes require some modifications the sanction of the Corporation will have to be obtained through appropriate committees. This is the time for all this work of shifting.

CITIZENS' GRIEVANCES

The new chairman of the Standing Committee Mr. B. A. Dalal has established a healthy precedent. Whenever any Councillor requests him he goes on rounds of Wards, with the Councillor and personally looks into the grievances of the citizens. Of course, these rounds need not be expected to achieve wonders. In many cases the powers of the Corporation are very limited and with the best of intentions nothing very sensational can be achieved. The inadequate resources at the disposal of the Corporation is another drawback. At the same time such visits will keep the Municipal Officers alert and the proverbial red tapism will be lessened to a certain extent.

The Municipal Commissioner's rounds were arranged exactly with such an end in view. Unfortunately the present Municipal Commissioner seems to have been convinced that no useful purpose is likely to be served by such rounds. He goes through the routine because he must and has said on more than one occasions that he has no objection if the Corporation decides to cancel it. The Municipal Officers know this and the sanitary check which these rounds were expected to exert have become almost non-existent. Under these circumstances the rounds of the Chairman of the Standing Committee is a very happy innovation.

REPORT FROM CALCUTTA

The official report of the Commission appointed by the West Bengal Government in March 1948 to enquire into the finances and the working of the Municipal Act of 1922 has been published. A short summary of this report has already appeared in the press a long time back and the main recommendations were summarised accordingly.

there. But the final report is more important from the point of view of the understanding of the difficulties that the municipal bodies experience in the country today and the report is a very valuable document for those in charge of the affairs of the Bombay Municipal Corporation. Of special interest are the recommendations which deal with the acquisition by the Corporation of powers to prohibit throwing of refuse into the streets, measures against waste of water, better control of markets, overhaul of the food inspection system etc. The use of unfiltered water for instance in our cities is a source of grave concern to those in charge of our public health. Unfortunately the population in these cities have increased to such a proportion that filtering of water has become a well-nigh impossibility. At the same time some device will have to be found to tackle this problem because obviously the continuous use of unfiltered water is a great source of danger to the health of our city.

IRREGULARITIES

Similarly the overhauling of the system of food inspection also deserves careful consideration. The report says that the sample sent by the Food Inspector to the laboratory must be analysed and the results noted on the forms within a week at the most and proper action should be taken on these reports punishing subordinate officers who are found failing in this important duty. Similarly with reference to contracts the Commission recommends that steps should be taken to prevent recurrence of objectionable practices such as extra payment over sanctioned amounts or making an excess payment out of revenue when the loan fund for the purpose of the contract has been exhausted. This recommendation should be carefully followed by the authorities of the Bombay Corporation also. It is true that in these days of difficulties in getting required materials it is not always possible to get all the terms favourable to the Corporation and at times the wishes of the contractors have to be respected. At the same time, now that the conditions are getting easy to a considerable extent the Corporation should see that a contract completed within the amounts allotted for the purpose at the first instance and no additional sums are added later on by the contractors. The terms in the contract dealing with the provisions for the fluctuations in wage rate and prices of material have also to be restricted as far as possible so that the Corporation may exactly know the amount to be spent on a given work and plan accordingly.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

Bombay's Milk

Allow me to thank you for publishing the pictures depicting the stark reality surrounding the stables and the way in which the milk is handled on its way to Bombay consumers.

The educated persons should try to organise consumers' co-operatives so that they can induce the producers to handle the milk in clean atmosphere. In foreign countries and in cities like Cawnpore and Coimbatore, the consumers' co-operative play an important part in the distribution of milk to the citizen. In fact, the consumers co-operatives is the first practical step to solve the problem of getting pure and clean milk. As the Milk Commissioner is helping a number of Bombayites to get pure and good milk, the persons staying in suburbs and morass places may take the first step to ascertain the demand for pure milk regularly and then approach the producers with a firm demand and help and guide him to produce milk under sanitary conditions.

The Gopalan Case

The judgment of the Supreme Court of India in the A. K. Gopalan Case delivered on the 19th instant in New Delhi, is of the greatest importance in as much as it is the first major judicial interpretation of the relations between the Judiciary and the Parliament under the Constitution in India. And as such it will be in great demand both in India and elsewhere. It is, therefore, suggested that the full text of the judgment should immediately be published in the form of a brochure either by the Supreme Court or by some enterprising publisher. It may confidently be anticipated that the publication will pay its way. Even otherwise, it should be published in book form immediately and given wide circulation.

Vajreshwari

I beg to refer to the topic of Vajreshwari, which is being widely discussed by the public at present, particularly by people suffering from rheumatism and other diseases which are curable by taking treatment at those springs. Unhappily owing to lack of proper arrangements and facilities the sufferers have to undergo hardships. I feel confident you will agree with me that the Government's pointed attention should be drawn to the following points:—

1. What steps are being taken to develop the hot-springs centre of Akoli's at Vajreshwari into a health resort?
2. Why has the Government kept the Town-planning scheme suspended, and when is it expected to be enforced?
3. If funds are lacking for the project as a whole why not start it on a five-year plan basis, beginning with the construction of public baths on modern sanitary lines.
4. Have the waters been analysed? Why not set up a laboratory on the spot to enable analysis and experiments to be conducted side by side, and also tests made for radio-activity and invisible rays?

THE LORD PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL

Duties And Responsibilities

The Indian Prime Minister, Pandit Nehru, said at his monthly press conference on May 22 that in his view Mr. C. Rajagopalachari "should occupy a position similar to that of the Lord President of the Council in England." The post of Lord President of the Council is an office of the highest dignity and historical interest and his functions are many and varied. The present holder of this office is Mr. Herbert Morrison.

The post of Lord President of the Council, that is, of the Privy Council, is an office of the highest dignity and historical interest.

The Lord President of the Council is a Minister without Portfolio, who may be given special administrative tasks, varying with each Government. He is also Chairman of the Privy Council which only meets in full on the death of the Sovereign to declare the accession of the new Monarch.

The present holder of this office, Mr. Herbert Morrison, is also Leader of the House of Commons and, as such, is responsible for the arrangement of Parliamentary business. He also acts as Deputy Prime Minister in the wartime Coalition Government the office of Lord President was held by Mr. Attlee, the present Prime Minister.

The Lord President is the Minister who has general responsibility for Government scientific policy (other than defence) and is ex-officio President of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research. The Advisory Council on Scientific Policy set up in 1947 to advise the Lord President in the exercise of his responsibility for the formulation and execution of Government scientific policy, reports to him annually.

The present Lord President supervises, under the Prime Minister, the Government's programme of legislation. He is also responsible for the co-ordination of certain broad fields of policy, as, for example, the Social Services. The Lord President is Chairman of the committee which supervises and reviews the policy and

Revenue Commissioners

If the Government of Bombay not yet taken an irrevocable decision, I should suggest to them in the present conditions, the Divisional Commissionerships be retained for maintaining efficiency administration at a high level in districts. It is true that formerly public had been clamouring for abolition but conditions have changed after independence. A large number of senior and experienced civil servants—mostly British—have prematurely retired and we have in the district many cases, junior and inexperienced men working as Collectors and District Commissioners. They require guidance and timely directions from Divisional Commissioners who are senior in age and have long experience to their credit. It is absolutely essential to maintain a tone of general administration in all departments in the districts at a very high level. It is with the disappearance of such control and supervision exercised by these Divisional Commissioners.

Secondly the centralization of Revisional and appellate authority the Secretariat will cause great inconvenience to the public who can easily approach Commissioners and obtain necessary relief in Revenue other cases. The great distance from Bombay from a large part of State renders it difficult and costly for the public therein to get their grievances redressed. I am of the opinion that these posts be retained for at least 10 years.

Compulsory Saving

Shri N. V. Gadgil inaugurating National Savings Agriculture and Industrial Exhibition at Sangli on 17th has given a warning that "if enough savings did not come forth through voluntary efforts, Government would have to use compulsion." He further reported to have said that every one decided to save one day's PAY in a month, the problem of capital would be solved to a great length. His remarks are understandable and warning unwarranted. When the public at large are asked to save, how can he even dream of compelling EMPLOYEES to decide to save one day's PAY IN A MONTH? A warning should have been to those who have capital to invest. As Central Member he must have seen from the Income-tax Investigation Commission Report that only few people have hoarded money. As Shri N. V. Gadgil, Ex-Finance Minister said none would be able to make more than Rs. 2 lakhs profits out of earnings of Rs. 30 lakhs, as then existing taxation slab took away Rs. 2 lakhs. Still the wealthy became wealthy. What is, therefore, needed is to bring out this saving this good and let it be either lavishly spent and wasted or is divided amongst themselves gold, silver, diamonds etc. If Government's aim was to reduce the present economic inequality and if Government were against the concentration of wealth in the hands of a few would be a mockery to ask the employees to contribute one day's pay towards achieving this goal and let the culprits and not to seek any operation of the wealthy few. It would be a great service to the nation if wealthy few came out voluntarily help the Government in this drive towards economic equality.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Villages First

The Children's Centre, whose foundation stone was laid by Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, is the type of institutions whose want is keenly felt not only in Bombay but in other towns and also villages. It is a combination of the open space and other amenities which are essential to children—be they in towns or villages—for their physical and cultural development. In fact, such institutions are badly needed in places in which children get just bare school education and hardly any opportunity for extra-curricular activities. Children in several rural areas have to remain in a backward condition even if they happen to get a chance to attend primary schools.

Sardar Patel remembered such children living and growing in unhealthy surroundings and denied the opportunity of acquiring even primary education, but at present the tendency is that every educational or cultural movement is usually initiated in larger towns and then it either comes to a standstill or insidiously fades out before it approaches villages. However it is gratifying to learn that the Government of Bombay, which has sponsored the centre in this town, proposes to establish similar ones in other towns also. We wish that the movement is soon extended particularly to educationally backward and under-developed areas in the state. Benefits of educational or cultural movements would be evenly distributed if the latter were begun in and extended from backward centres. As regards the expenditure involved in the establishment of Children's Centres, rich persons, rightly said Sardar Patel, should come forward with donations and thereby, share the responsibility of the Government. Education and medical relief are the undertakings which need liberal financial support from the public.

Courtesy Gone

The culture of the oldest civilisation has its breaking point, and it seems to have been reached at the UNESCOs to be discussed the other day when the Nationalist Chinese delegate described those who wanted him to quit as "propaganda bipes". Even here it must be admitted, the Chinese have maintained their inherent good manners which fights shy of calling a spade a spade. A "biped" is much more dignified than the prosaic term "two-footed animal". But the Eastern European delegates, who were described thus by the Chinese delegate, will not be deterred by considerations of courtesy or good manners, and in the language which they use against those who choose to differ from them they are unsurpassed. Recently, in describing Tito, a Moscow publication said, "Tito's fascist clique attempts to conceal from the world the unbridled reign of terror it has unleashed.... No support from British and American imperialism will save the Belgrade pack of spies and assassins...." It may be that the Chinese delegate is banking on the fact that the delegates of the satellite countries will not be there to take the floor against him but for once the delegates of Czechoslovakia and Hungary might return to attack. They have left the point vague in their "ultimatum".

Study Tours

Travel abroad no doubt broadens one's outlook and in Britain education was never held complete until the student went out into the world to find out things for himself. The practice has caught on in India, and it is not confined to students passing out of their colleges. Englishmen also go out and come back with suggestions as to how things can be improved. They are full of praise for the things they have seen and are half-ashamed to confess, when abroad, that they belong to a land of darkness. Last year, Bombay's Mayor went to America and came back with the feeling that a year's term was too short for the Mayoral office. He was largely guided by the American example where the Mayor enjoys a longer tenure and wider powers. Mr. Patil is a man of resourcefulness, and it must be said to his credit that he was able to make others share his broadened outlook and elect him for a second term. He has again gone abroad and Bombay is anxiously awaiting his return hoping to gain by his experience abroad. But Mr. Patil is not alone in embarking on a quest for knowledge so that the country might gain out of his wisdom. Mr. R. K. Sidhwa has taken the trouble of going abroad to study how other countries run their parliamentary institutions. The tour has taken him to all the capitals of the world. The question-hour has so far been the monopoly of even the untravelled Sidhwa, and well might the brother Parliamentarians wonder whether they will have the time or occasion to put in a word even during debates when Mr. Sidhwa returns learned in the ways of the Parliaments of the world.

International Tariffs And Trade Conference INDIA MAY JOIN I.T.O.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

THE next Conference of the countries adhering to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) will open at Torquay in England on September 23. GATT, it will be recalled, was developed at the International meetings on Trade and Tariffs held in Geneva in 1947. Second Conference of the countries adhering to GATT was held in Ancey last year. GATT is a temporary arrangement pending the ratification of Havana Charter and creation of the International Trade Organisation.

According to advices received here, the United States Government has announced that it would discuss International Trade Agreement with twenty three countries, including India, at the Torquay Conference exchanging tariff concessions on some 2,500 products.

"Without prejudice" to the recommendations of the Fiscal Commission, the Government of India is preparing itself for the Torquay Conference. The question whether India should join the International Trade Organisation and continue to adhere to GATT has been under reference to the Fiscal Commission for its opinion. The Commission is now holding its concluding Session and will submit its report to the Government of India by the middle of June. As it has already been indicated, the Commission's likely verdict will be in favour of India continuing its association with GATT. As for the Havana Agreement, the Commission's likely recommendation would favour its ratification, provided it were ratified by Britain and the United States declared intention to participate and exchange tariff concessions. The Torquay Session of GATT will have an added importance.

Pakistan Prime Minister, Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan's statement that his country may soon have a treaty of Friendship and Commerce with the United States may expedite negotiations for a similar treaty between India and the States. India recently sent in aid memoirs of the last Indo-American treaty negotiations to the United States Embassy at New Delhi. The American Treaty expert, Dr. Wilson had participated in these negotiations. The aid memoirs inter alia set out in details the points at issue over which differences between the two Governments remain undissolved. The American viewpoint is that the exceptions to model treaty demanded by India may be demanded by other countries with which the United States has treaty relations. India, on the other hand, claims that the concessions demanded by her are necessary for an under-developed country and as such should not affect the treaty relations of the United States with other countries, all of which are better developed than India.

LUCKNOW, May 26 (UPI): The State Government is reported to have sent a memorandum to the Government of India in connection with the allocation they were to make for this State from the Central Road Development Fund. The State Government has also sought their permission for the transfer of a sum of Rs. 10,50,000 from the fund for the repairs of the Grand Trunk Road.

PROBLEMS OF INDUSTRIES Kilachand's Views

BOMBAY, Friday. "The efficiency with which the cost structure is intimately connected is the most dynamic aspect of the industrial problem," declared Shri Tulsi K. Kilachand, President of the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry, addressing the Progressive Group at Green's this evening.

Mr. B. N. Anklesaria, President of the Progressive Group was in the chair.

Referring to the incontrovertible assumption that improvement in the standard of living was the ultimate objective of all economic progress, Mr. Kilachand said that this objective could be realised "not by an egalitarian redistribution of income, but by the utmost possible exploitation of our economic potential."

Though this potential was immense, its realisation was limited by meagreness of capital equipment and technical knowledge.

SHORT TERM PROBLEM

The short-term problem was of full utilization of production capacity while the long-term problem, he said, could only be tackled by progressively increasing the capital resources for better exploitation of the abundant, but at present idle, factors of production.

Tracing the impact of recent historical events on the economy of the country, namely the loss of Burma, and the closure of foreign markets during the war Mr. Kilachand said that India had lost nearly 40% of its raw cotton and 75% of its jute as a result of the partition of the country which had thrown the economy completely out of equilibrium. However, the established capacity of both these industries—cotton textile and jute textile—had remained at nearly the pre-partition level.

The agricultural problem was, therefore, of the bottom of the trouble in the country and Government had acted wisely in giving it priority. He hoped that the problem would be solved when the irrigation and multi-purpose projects had been completed.

Turning to Government policy he said that the labour legislation which was under their consideration should take into account all the problems of output, employment, investment and the flexibility of the cost structure.

As regards the high level of taxation which contributed to the rigidity of costs, Mr. Kilachand said that the egalitarian bias in the taxation structure had been overdone and that its repercussions on the cost structure had been underestimated. He hoped that the Fiscal Commission Report would throw some light on the problem.

He welcomed the institution of the National Planning Commission and said that it would concentrate on problems of co-ordinating the activities of Government and private enterprise.

Finally, he said that given proper conditions, India should be well on her way to progress.

STATE TRADING

Answering a question on the desirability of State trading, Mr. Kilachand said that he was against it. Asked if the abolition of controls would not result in hardships to the community by way of higher prices, he replied that he was not in favour of removal of all controls. Only those controls which had become obsolete should be done away with. He, however, refused to say which of the controls should be removed, adding that it was the duty of Government to find that out.

LIAQUAT WILL VISIT RUSSIA

Pak P. M.'s Farewell Press Conference In U. S.

BOSTON, May 26. (PTI-Reuters).

MR. LIAQUAT ALI KHAN SAID HERE YESTERDAY THAT HE IS GOING TO RUSSIA, BUT HE DID NOT SAY WHEN. Addressing his last press conference in the United States, he said "no date has yet been fixed, but the invitation is there and I will accept it."

He added that there was no serious Communist problem in Pakistan because the Muslims of Pakistan who were a majority of the population, believed in the "Islamic way of life". He then explained the Islamic way of life and Islamic Socialism.

He said that so long as the people of Pakistan believed in this, there could be no danger of any other ideology replacing it.

NOT COMMUNISTS. Asked whether he thought that Communists were responsible for the recent communal trouble in Eastern Pakistan, the Prime Minister replied in the negative.

He told another questioner that Pakistan was not a member of the Arab League but believed in having friendly relations with all countries, especially the Muslim countries.

He said that there was every sympathy in Pakistan for the republic of Indonesia.

Of Indo-China, he said, Pakistan wanted to see decent progress there and a Government representing the people of that country.

Commenting on the statement by the United Nations Secretary General, Mr. Trygve Lie, on his bid for peace, the Prime Minister said that he wished all success to anyone who worked for peace.

INDO-PAK RELATIONS. Of Indo-Pakistan relations, he said that since the Indo-Pakistan Agreement on Minorities there was a universal desire in Pakistan to have friendly relations with India and there were large sections in India that wanted to be friendly with Pakistan.

But he added, "so long as the Kashmir issue is not settled justly, it is difficult to say that there can be real friendship between Pakistan and India."

"ABSOLUTE LIE". "Asked whether there was any truth in a report in the American press that Pakistan was buying American arms for Middle East countries, the Prime Minister replied: "It is an absolute lie."

After explaining the reasons which led to the creation of Pakistan and the difficulties that the Dominion faced immediately after its establishment, the Prime Minister said: "Today we are over the hump."

Asked whether Pakistan had balanced all its budgets and that its economy was strong and it was politically the most unified country in Asia. All this had been achieved not through any charity or aid or doles, but through the determination, unity and spirit of self-sacrifice of the people.

GREATLY IMPRESSED. The Prime Minister said he had been greatly impressed with the achievements of free enterprise in the United States and added that there was no country in the world which had made such a great success of it as America.

Pakistan was also working on the principle of private enterprise and free trade.

Other points in his talk with pressmen included: "Pakistan would send more students to the United States and other European countries for technical training."

Pakistan would not devalue its currency because the decision not to devalue had been taken purely on economic considerations and subsequent events had proved that the decision was right.

Russia could help Pakistan by giving agricultural implements. Pakistan had some trade with Russia, but they could not arrive at any trade agreement.

The Prime Minister finally said that he would like to thank the United States press for the extreme friendliness, sympathy and understanding shown to him throughout his visit.

He added that the American press was a great and free institution.

SOUTH AMBOY EXPLOSION. WASHINGTON: The United States State Department said yesterday it was "absolutely" satisfied that there was no unlicensed or smuggled shipments of arms involved in the South Amboy, New Jersey, explosion last week.

The State Department's press officer Mr. Lincoln White, said the armaments destined for Pakistan which were involved in the blast had been licensed for export by the State Department on assurances that they were for "the exclusive use of the Pakistan military establishment."

The Department accepted those assurances, Mr. White said, "and has no reason whatsoever to believe that the equipment would be used for any other purpose."

Mr. White said the export of the arms was authorised in September last year.

He said he also understood that a quantity of commercial dynamite involved was being shipped to Pakistan for trans-shipment to Afghanistan where it was to be used in construction work.

LONDON PEPPER

LONDON, May 26: The pepper market was negative and prices remained unchanged. Black Lampung, May/June, was quoted at 95 7/8, and White Muntok at 15 1/4. Shipping weight with White Sarawak at 15 1/4. 90 delivered weight per pound sellers 1/2 basis ports Malabar afloat was quoted at 1.1105 and May/June and July at 1.090 sellers per cwt., c.i.f. United Kingdom.

Australian Troops In Japan

SYDNEY, May 26. (PTI-Reuters): Australia has decided to withdraw her 2,374 troops from Japan, the Prime Minister, Mr. R. G. Menzies, said today. Some time would lapse before the actual movement of men and stores began and the whole operation would extend over a considerable period. "The move is being made after consultation with the United States Government and with its agreement," he said.

Supreme Court Quashes Madras Ban Order On 'Cross Roads'

NEW DELHI, May 26 (PTI).

THE Supreme Court today declared Section 9 (1-A) of the Madras Maintenance of Public Order Act as invalid and quashed the order of the State Government banning the entry into the State of "Cross Roads", a pro-Communist Bombay weekly.

The supreme court also admitted the petition of pro-R.S.S. Delhi weekly "Organiser" against pre-censorship order.

The verdicts in both the cases were given by the majority of five to one, the dissenting judgments having been given by Mr. Justice Fazl Ali.

The judgment allowing the petition of "Cross Roads" was delivered by Mr. Justice Patanjali Shastri with whom the Chief Justice Mr. Harilal Kania, Mr. Justice Das, Mr. Justice Mookerjee and Mr. Justice Mahajan concurred.

Mr. Patanjali Shastri first referred to the contention of the counsel for Madras State that as a matter of orderly procedure, the petitioner should first resort to the High Court at Madras which, under section 226 of the Constitution, had concurrent jurisdiction to deal with the matter. He then observed: "This (Supreme Court) is, as constituted, the protector and guarantor of fundamental rights, and it cannot, consistently with the responsibility so laid upon it, refuse to entertain applications seeking protection against infringements of such rights."

Mr. Justice Shastri proceeded to examine the question whether the Madras Maintenance of Public Order Act with particular reference to section 9(1-A) was a "law relating to any matter which undermines the security of or tends to overthrow the State."

He said that "public safety" ordinarily meant security of the public or their freedom from danger. In that sense anything which tended to prevent dangers to public health might also be regarded as securing public safety. The meaning of the expression must, however, vary according to the context. "Although in the context of the statute relating to law and order, securing public safety" may not include the securing of public health, it may well mean securing the public against rash driving on a public way and the like, and not necessarily the security of the State.

Newsbits From Film Reels

After a lapse of seven years, the screen will be enriched by the vigorous personality of Sohrab Modi. The famous director, who has been content all these years to work behind the scenes, now emerges from retirement and takes the dominant role in his mammoth production "Sheesh Mahal", which will soon be on the Bombay screen.

Modi believes in doing things on a grand scale, and besides the spectacular nature of his settings, for which he is especially noted, he is believed to have built up a vast and intensely dramatic story that will delight the hearts of all. The film has a powerful cast featuring besides Modi, Naseem, Nigar, Pushpa Hans, Mubarak and Amarath. This mammoth film is expected by its makers to create cinematic history.

New Roshan Art's 'Rangene Kahan' which is scheduled for early release at the Capitol, Paradise, National and Shrin Talikes, is a musical comedy with plenty of gay and catchy music, and with a story that shows that it is futile for those who have no knowledge of western civilisation to blindly ape everything foreign merely because it happens to be a fad.

The main roles in the screenplay, are enacted by Surekha, S. Irad, and Dulari, all of whom are believed to have given fine performances. The release of the film is through M/s Grand Pictures.

Yet one more dramatisation of the struggle for freedom is on the way.

New Theatres' 'Pahela Admi', shortly to be released by the Calcutta Film Exchange, is the story of the INA, with authenticity ensured by having the story written by one of the members of the Army of liberation. The film goes pictorially over the 1943 Burma Campaign and full attention has been paid to the heroic exploits of the band of selfless soldiers who braved death and dishonour in order to free the motherland.

'Pimkar's Deedar', which is nearing completion, is a film that boasts one of the most distinguished casts of recent years. Heading the cast are Dilip Kumar, Ashok Kumar, Nargis and Nimmi, with one of the acting plums going to Yakub's way. The latter, incidentally, has a role that makes him stand out in sharp relief to the others.

While the stars have serious emotional characterisations, Yakub romps through the film as if he had not a care in the world. His little foibles and quirks of character create not only situations that impinge upon the other players, but afford the audience plenty of merriment.

The 'Deedar' unit, which had gone to Mahabaleshwar for location, has now returned to Bombay, and Director Nitis Bose is said to have brought back quite a few gems of scenic photography with him.

'Screens', the popular distributing agency, who have hitherto confined the activities to Hindi films, are now also handling Marathi pictures. Their properties have been acquired: 'Raja Nene's', 'Pathe Baburao', and 'Ketaki-chya Banat', and R.G.J. Pictures' Jeevachi Mumbai'.

'Afsar', Nav Ketan's eagerly awaited satire on village life is due in Bombay in just three weeks. The film, which is awaiting release at leading theatres in the city, is also scheduled for a simultaneous up-country release. It abounds with hilarious scenes and stars Suraiya and Dev Anand. The lyrics of Narendra Sharma have been delightfully set to music by ace music director Sachin Dev Varman.

Sadiq production's 'Sabak', which was to be released by Kardar Films Ltd. will now be taken over by the India Film Exchange, the agreement with Kardar having been cancelled. It is booked for an early release in Bombay, and has already passed the censor with minor deletions. With dialogue by Azam Esdiqui, the film stars Muzar Sultana, Jagirdar and Karan Diwan.

PAKISTAN DENIES

KARACHI, May 26 (PTI): High Pakistan Government quarters last night denied the suggestion reported by American ex-Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes before an American Zionist rally in Washington last night, that the Arabs had received arms through Pakistan during the Palestine fighting two years ago. They characterised Mr. Ickes' remarks as "baseless" and "entirely without foundation".

Mr. Ickes was reported as calling Pakistan the "gutter track" through which the Arabs received arms.

NEW DELHI, May 26 (UPI): Mr. Jagiwan Ram, Labour Minister, is going to Geneva as the Leader of the Indian Delegation to the ILO Conference which commences on June 6. He will leave Delhi for Bombay by air on June 2 and leave the evening for Geneva by Air India International Constellation.

ASIAN NATIONS MEETING AT BAGUIO

Pakistan Against Military Alliance

MANILA, May 26 (PTI-Reuters).

DELEGATES from seven non-Communist nations of Asia were today opening a Conference at Baguio, Philippine summer capital 5,000 feet up in the mountains to seek peace, social progress and a better standard of living.

Represented are India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Thailand, Australia, Indonesia and the Philippines.

The leading Manila morning paper, the Daily Bulletin, reported today that envoys from Pakistan and Ceylon had announced last night that they would block all moves to include military co-operation on the Conference agenda.

Thailand's sole delegate, Mr. Liang Bhadravadi, his country's Minister in the Philippines, reported today the pact that although economic agreement under certain conditions would help prevent the spread of Communism, Thailand also wants armaments.

In a broadcast last night Foreign Secretary General Carlos Romulo said "no military commitments are contemplated."

He described the Conference as a "step forward in the movements of Asian nations towards regional action within the United Nations". He continued "now for the first time matters of mutual and permanent interests to South-East Asia and the western Pacific will be acted upon and decisions taken which will be binding upon Governments participating. "The Conference will devote deliberations solely to search for effective

CHIANG'S DELEGATE LOSES HIS TEMPER

Angry Debate In UNESCO

THE Chinese Nationalist delegate yesterday branded the delegates of Hungary and Czechoslovakia as "paganda breds" and politely relegated them to nethermost realms of Dante's inferno.

Both delegates had threatened a final walkout from UNESCO if Nationalist China remained.

The Indian delegate also opposed the admission of Nationalist China.

Dr. Wen's speech to the 1,000 delegates to UNESCO's fifth General Conference followed a meeting of the Credentials Committee earlier at which a final decision on Nationalist China was postponed for four days after India had objected to her admission and Britain had announced she would abstain.

The decision was taken despite a 24-hour ultimatum by the Hungarian and Czechoslovak delegates.

The two Eastern European delegates walked out of the Conference on the opening day in protest against the provisional admission of Nationalist China.

They delivered a letter declaring that unless the position of China was settled by today they would "draw the necessary conclusions".

This was interpreted in Conference circles as a threat that both countries will finally quit UNESCO unless Nationalist China was excluded.

FLORENCE, May 26 (PTI-Reuters). UNESCO, Dr. Wen Yuan-Ming yesterday branded the delegates of Hungary and Czechoslovakia as "paganda breds" and politely relegated them to nethermost realms of Dante's inferno.

Both delegates had threatened a final walkout from UNESCO if Nationalist China remained.

The Indian delegate also opposed the admission of Nationalist China.

They delivered a letter declaring that unless the position of China was settled by today they would "draw the necessary conclusions".

This was interpreted in Conference circles as a threat that both countries will finally quit UNESCO unless Nationalist China was excluded.

The nine-man Credentials Committee, however, accepted a Brazilian proposal to draft a report on the Chinese question which will be submitted again to the Credentials Committee on Monday in a special session of the General Conference.

The report will suggest the admission of Nationalist China for this session of UNESCO and that a request be made to the Director General of United Nations to put the Chinese question before the Security Council and the General Assembly for future guidance.

Although no vote has yet been taken, six delegates on the Committee spoke in favour of the report suggested by Brazil while two India and Yugoslavia spoke against and one (Britain) announced she would abstain.

Canada, Brazil, Cuba, France, the United States, and the Lebanon were the six nations in favour.

Three more nations, Indonesia, Transjordan and South Korea were admitted into UNESCO last night bringing the organisations membership to 59.

Korea was admitted by 27 votes to 1 with three abstentions after strong opposition from Yugoslavia.

The abstaining countries were Burma, South Africa and Afghanistan.

Jordan was admitted by 33 in favour none against and two abstentions (Egypt and Israel).

Indonesia was admitted by 34 to none with one abstention (Nationalist China).

Australian delegate, Dr. E. Ronald Walker said UNESCO should extend its plans for technical assistance to underdeveloped areas particularly in South-East Asia.

He said Australia has 20 UNESCO fellows from South-East Asia studying this year and hoped to be able to take 23 more.

Suraiya and Kumar in the popular "Khlari."

Suraiya-Ashok Kumar Combination Popular

TALWAR FILMS' "Khlari", which is now showing before packed houses at the New West End, Excelsior, Kismet, Neptune and other theatres, stars two of the biggest names in films today—Ashok Kumar and the ever-popular Suraiya.

The story is a pleasant one with the stellar pair having the usual run of amorous adventures, mostly of the light variety, with Kumar scoring heavily as a retired military man who is a stickler for all that the old school represents.

There is a pleasing musical score and director Talwar's handling of the megaplot has resulted in a smooth and well-knit film.

A Film Woven Into A Powerful Plot

The next change at the Super is Keki Mistry's long-awaited "Pyar Ki Masail". This film, which is being released through Bharat Film Co. was produced under the banner of S.T.F. Productions and has Munawar Sultana, Rehman and Gope in the leading roles.

The story is about a rich young man who loves a poor girl, and finding a constant stream of obstacles in his path, grows mad with grief. This plot is said to have been given a powerful and dramatically satisfying treatment by Keki Mistry, and the stars are also reported to have made full use of the opportunities that came their way.

Sulochana Chatterji in "Preet-Ka-Geet"

A POET AND HIS AMOURS

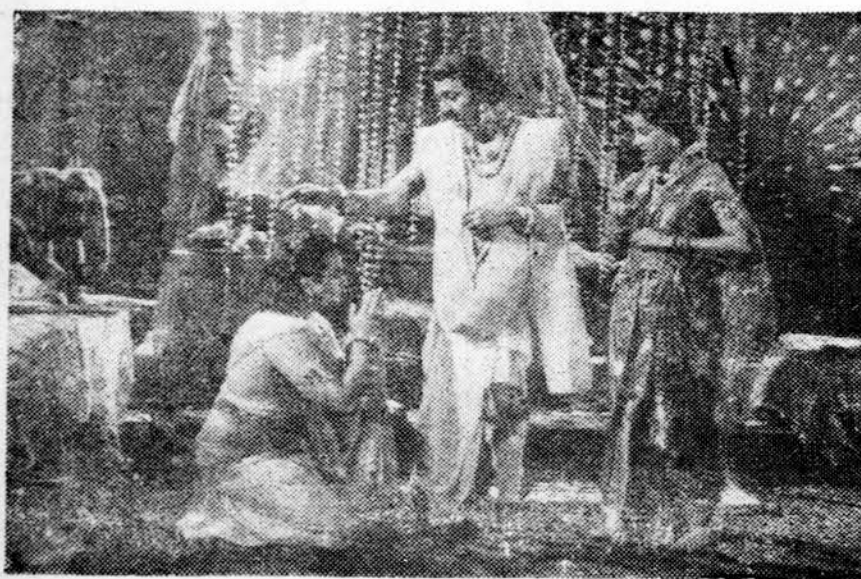

TAKING courage from the fact that in any field, there is always room at the top for the right man, himself to climb the movie-ladder, and for his initial venture "Preet-Ka-Geet", he is being received with applause for the second week at the Swastik, Jai Hind, and Rivoli.

With a rather naive story from the pen of the scrip-writer, Girish Trivedi has been given little material to direct. The narration, as it ought to be, is presented in bald simplicity, devoid of all the trappings and embellishments that showman often pass off as good entertainment. It is little wonder that the average cine-goer, with a predilection for straightforwardness should take this picture to his heart.

Prem Adib is cast in the leading male role and brings out the best in himself with the little material at his disposal—though a change in his serene expression in the lighter moments would do much to highlight some incidents. Sulochana Chatterji renders a good account in the dramatic episodes, while Shashikala, his other lady-love, is too flippant to be a prospective better-half for a poet. The rest of the cast give stock performances.

'KHEL' COMING AT KRISHNA

The next change at the Krishna is "Shahin Pictures' "Khel" which has Nigar and Dev Anand sharing the stellar honours. This film, which has been directed and produced by S. M. Navab, sets out to show how great a part is played by destiny in shaping men's lives. The cast is strengthened by the presence of Hafiz Jehan, Anwar and Amanullah.

INDIAN FILMS

AN OUTSTANDING SOCIAL DOCUMENT

Shantaram's 'Dahej'—A Promising Production

THE deleterious and demoralising effect on our social structure of a compulsory dowry is vividly depicted in "Dahej", now running at the Royal Opera House.

Obviously the product of devoted team-work, it owes its success primarily to the inspiration and influence of one man—producer Shantaram. Jayashree makes an inspired heroine, her acting reaching, in parts, the heights of greatness. Prithviraj, a retired soldier, is her father, and has hardly any cash to endow his daughter's marriage—the proverbial high-thinking and plain-living doesn't seem to be enough. He fits the role like a glove, and in his own inimitable style, grips one's interest throughout.

The members of the opposite family are Ullas, a successful and affluent advocate, Karan Diwan, the son and heir, and Lalita Powar, Karan's mother. Ullas renders a good account of himself for the little while he lives on the screen, while Karan shines in patches. Lalita Powar is tops in the role of the constantly nagging in-law. The part gives her ample scope to display her histrionic talents.

A fitting climax is provided by Shums Lucknavi's masterly summation of the dramatic events in the final reel. Disregarding the hackneyed "they-lived-happily-ever-after", the hero and heroine meet a tragic and sorry end, the latter not without gasping her final utterance to her father whom she sees arriving with a belated dowry: "Father, you have brought me everything; you should have brought, my coffin, too."

Bouquets For Kishore Sahu

Producer Kishore Sahu may well be proud of the fact that his "Hamara Ghar" is now in its 14th week at all the six theatres where it is being shown, and has collected one and a half lacs of rupees during the first three weeks of its run.

In "Hamara Ghar", Sahu has given us a picture that depicts in a realistic manner, problems that confront many Indian Households, a film that teaches the lesson that it takes all kinds to make a world and that the unity of a family should always remain uppermost in the minds of all its members.

Though the moral has been driven home at somewhat undue length, the picture, nevertheless, succeeds in keeping the interest of the audience, mainly due to the fine role which has been allotted to that experienced veteran actress Durga Khote. Other roles are filled creditably by Veena, Umakant, Yashodhara, Kaju, Agha, Geeta Bose and David.

Ramola and Wasti in New Light Films' musical satire "Maang."

'MAANG' DOES WELL AT MINERVA

SAGIR USMANI has spun an interesting and topical yarn in "Maang" which is currently running at the Minerva. The story gives scope to the players to display their virtuosity and talents to the greatest advantage.

The stars are Romola and Wasti. As the modern woman with a mind of her own, Romola will please her host of admirers, though Wasti does somewhat less well, cast opposite her.

Among the supporting players, Mubarak easily stands out with a character role that he makes his own. Amar, Hemlata, and Shanti Madhok are others in the cast. Ghulam Mohamed, who was responsible for the music of "Kajal", was in charge of the score.

The King And The Fisher-Girl

Nargis Ast's mythological, "Bhishma Pratigya" which is running locally at the Krishna and Surya is attracting quite a boom at up-country centres, is a film that is set in the glorious and spacious days of King Shantanu. The picture is about the King's romance with a humble fisher girl, played by Nargis. Some of the scenes are good, the majority merely passable, the incredible dueness of the direction seems largely responsible for the stilted quality of the characterisation.

Dance Recital

A veritable feast of dancing is in store for enthusiasts when the famous dance director Lachhu Maharaj gives a recital at the Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan under the auspices of the Bharatiya Nritya Kala Kendra on Sunday, May 28 at 6-30 p.m.

There is a well varied programme, and in addition to items by Lachhu Maharaj, there will be dances by his daughter and disciple, the famous star Kausalya.

DEATH SENTENCE THREATENED

BUCHAREST, May 26 (PTI-Reuter). The death penalty in case of sabotage may be imposed under two decrees for compulsory delivery of agricultural produce issued by the Rumanian Government.

Other penalties include confiscation without compensation of the whole crop, confiscation of the property and penal servitude.

Jagirdar and Kumar, two veteran stars, have great dramatic roles in "Sabak" which is expected to be released soon.

B. T. Makes A Come-Back

Bombay Talkies which has been seeing rather lean times lately, are pinning great hopes on their forthcoming "Sangram", and hope that this film will boost them back to the top of the cinematic world.

Directed by Gyan Mukerjee, who was at the back of some of the studio's outstanding successes, the film is based on a story by Mukerjee himself and features a powerful cast led by Ashok Kumar and lovely Nalini Javvanti. Though it is somewhat early to know all the details, "Sangram" is reported to be strong not only on the acting side but to have a powerful and thrilling screenplay, the like of which has seldom been seen on the Indian screen.

Raval and Dave have secured the territorial rights of the film merely on the strength of the incomplete rushes, being so impressed with what they saw that they paid what is said to be a pretty stiff price.

Among other good things, "Sangram" has Nawab, Hemagati and Ram Singh leading the support, while the musical score has been entrusted to C. Ramchandra, composer of a score of hits.

'Afsana' Bound To Hit New High

RELEASE EXPECTED SOON

Sri Gopal Pictures' "AFSANA"—one of the year's most ambitious productions that is bound to hit new heights in screen entertainment is under production at the M and T Studios.

Directed by Mr. B. R. Chopra from a powerful story by I. S. Johar this moving drama has all the dramatic content, emotional appeal and scintillating melodies that make for popular and distinguished entertainment. The cast, includes Ashok Kumar, Veena, Kuldip Jeevan, Pran, Babu Tabassum and Cuckoo the dancing idol of millions.

Ashok Kumar, who plays, twin brothers in this unusual and gripping film has a role that calls for great acting ability and looking at the scene, he has turned out so far, one can safely predict that his performance in "Afsana" will top all his past, great performances.

Veena, who plays the heroine brings her role the warm emotional appeal it calls for.

Husnain and Bhagatram, the master melody makers have been responsible for the musical score of "Afsana". Nine songs are destined for countrywide popularity.

Production values, have not been overlooked by Director Chopra and the superbly mounted sets coupled with Rajender Malone's work with the camera in the initial scenes indicate that he is sparing no effort to turn "Afsana" into a picture that will please the critics and public alike who are clamouring for something new and different.

Mr. Goverdandas Agarwal of Messrs. Tribhuvan Productions, who control the world rights of "Afsana" has already sold out some of the territorial rights of this potential box-office hit.

STEADY TREND AT STOCK EXCHANGE

Substantial Gains In New India And Imperial Old

Mr. C. D. Deshmukh's appointment as the Finance Minister of India in the place of Dr. John Mathai had a heartening effect on the Bombay Stock Exchange today. A part of yesterday's lost ground was already recovered when the market opened today. The undertone was, however, weak, and with liquidation setting in, in the absence of bull fervour prices steadily declined on all counts.

Tata Steel Deferred opened 15 points higher at Rs. 1803.12 to decline again to Rs. 1590 for lack of bull support. Later it hovered around Rs. 1600.

Tata Steel Ordinary was quiet at Rs. 313 after opening at Rs. 314-8. Bengal Steel and Indian Iron were quoted lower at Rs. 21-1 and Rs. 30-1-5 respectively.

Among the textile Bombay Dyeing was again in good demand and was quoted as high as Rs. 972-8. The scrip absorbed all the selling pressure and was firm at the higher level.

Simplex was steady at Rs. 217 and Kohinoor at Rs. 291. Other textiles were steady at the previous closing levels.

The miscellaneous section indicated a moderate turnover. Scindia was quiet at Rs. 11-4 and Tata Chemical Ordinary at Rs. 11-4-6. Construction was steady at Rs. 91-8 while Associated Cement changed hands at Rs. 152-4.

Among the Banks, Imperial (Fully paid) was better off at Rs. 1833-12 after opening at Rs. 1822-8. Central found buyers at Rs. 81-12.

Securities were steady with 3 per cent Conversion Loan of 1986 quoted at Rs. 97-2-6.

During the latter part of the session New India Insurance found exceedingly good inquiry on the new scheme about fresh issue, and were quoted as high as Rs. 69 after opening at Rs. 63. Imperial Fully Paid finished at Rs. 1847-8.

The market closed steady with Tata Steel Deferred finishing at its opening level of Rs. 1603-12. Bombay Dyeing closed firm at Rs. 970.

No Confidence In Karnatak Congress Leaders

DEPUTATIONISTS' PLEA TO SARDAR

(From Our Correspondent).

KARWAR, May 26. A lack of confidence in Congress leaders of Karnatak has been expressed in a memorandum submitted to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel by a number of Municipal Councillors, lawyers, merchants and distinguished citizens of Karwar.

The deputation, which claimed to represent the Konkani-Marathi speaking citizens of Karwar and Haliyal talukas and Supa Petha of the Karwar District met Sardar Patel when the latter visited about fifty Congress workers last week on board the Indian Flagship, I.N.S. "Delhi".

They made a strong plea to undertake the "development" of the Karwar Port and the construction of the Alnavar-Karwar railway line from a strategic point of view of developing the western coastal trade and traffic of India, setting aside the narrow and parochial view of the Provincial Congress leaders.

The memorandum adds that the Karnatak Provincial leaders who are "coming mostly from Hubli-Dharwar side have little inclination to study and understand our problems and our difficulties."

"The Provincial (Karnatak) Congress leaders, obsessed as they are with the idea of a Karnatak Province, look at questions like the development of the Karwar Port, Hydro-Electric Schemes of Gersoppa and Kali River, and constructing a railway line, from the point of view of developing their movement for a Karnatak Province and also exploiting this District for the aggrandisement of Karnatak proper which lies round Hubli and Dharwar. The representation urged the "protection of our linguistic rights." It pointed out that "by denying to us even the linguistic and cultural freedom, they (Provincial Congressmen) have forfeited our confidence and we take this opportunity of repudiating their pretensions to represent us in regard to the linguistic questions or in any other matter like the development of the Karwar Port and the construction of a Karwar-Alnavar railway line which intimately and vitally affect us and our future."

AMERICAN AID TO BAO DAI

Ex-Emperor Informed Officially

SAIGON, May 26. (PTI.) The United States yesterday officially informed ex-Emperor Bao Dai, head of the Viet Nam State, of its intention to begin a programme of economic aid to Viet Nam.

American Charge d'Affaires E. A. Gullivan, called on Bao Dai at his official residence in Dalat, Southern Annam, and handed him the letter announcing the American Government's decision.

Similar letters were sent to the Kings of Laos and Cambodia. The letter said the United States would establish in Saigon a special economic mission charged with developing and continuing a programme of economic aid "to help the three countries restore their normal economic life."

The head of the mission will be M. Robert Blum, former Member of the Senate and of the Griffin Mission to the Economic Co-operation Administration which visited Viet Nam last March.

The first instalment of American aid, it was learned in circles close to Bao Dai, will amount to 15 million dollars plus five million dollars in medical supplies until next July. A second allocation will be made after July.

In a speech after receiving the American letter, Bao Dai expressed gratitude to President Truman and said the aid would enable the Viet Namese to fight against poverty and Communism and consolidate their independence.

U.S. Foreign Aid Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, May 26 (PTI-Reuters).

THE UNITED STATES Senate yesterday gave final approval to the compromise Foreign Aid Bill for Marshall Plan funds for Europe and for aid under President Truman's "Point-Four" programme for backward areas. The bill was passed by 41 votes to 21.

The bill provides for 3,248,450,000 dollars for foreign aid in 1950-51. 2,977,000,000 dollars being earmarked for the European recovery programme.

The amount in the authorisation measure, which sets a ceiling of foreign aid funds to be appropriated later was raised yesterday by the testimony of Marshall Plan Chief Mr. Paul Hoffman before a Senate Appropriations Committee.

AN ESTIMATE

Earlier, the Marshall Plan Administrator had estimated that 150,000,000 dollars would be carried over from the current year's operations in Europe for use with a proposed 2,701,000,000 dollars in new cash.

But yesterday, he told the Senate Committee he now estimated that about 277,000,000 dollars and not 150,000,000 could be carried over for use in the coming year as authorised by Congress.

These extra dollars altered the sum of 3,121,450,000 dollars in the original compromise bill to 3,248,450,000 dollars. As the House of Representatives has already approved the bill by 247 votes to 88 the measure now goes to the White House for President Truman's signature to become law.

But the Appropriations Committee of both chambers are expected to cut the authorised figure when they draft appropriation bills for foreign aid.

WEST GERMANY AND COUNCIL OF EUROPE

BONN, May 26. (PTI-Reuters.) West Germany's Bundestag (Upper House of Parliament) last night approved Germany joining the Council of Europe.

The vote was 27 in favour and 16 against.

The Bundestag (Lower House) is expected to decide similarly soon after Whitsun, but probably with a narrower margin. The left wing parties and the small extreme right groups have already said they will oppose West German membership of the Council.

The bill becomes law if passed by both Houses.

EDUCATION FOR HOME GUARDS

The Camp, which was inaugurated on May 22 will last for 10 days.

LAIK ALI CASE

7 Accused In Pakistan: Two Hiding In India

POLICE UNABLE TO EXECUTE ARREST WARRANTS

HYDERABAD (Dn.), May 26. (PTI.) M. R. NARENDRA SINHA, Deputy Superintendent of Police, today told the Special Judge, Mr. N. Kumarayya, trying 26 persons in connection with the escape of Mir Laik Ali, former Prime Minister of Hyderabad, from custody early in March last, that the police were unable to execute warrants of arrest against nine of the accused in the case who are absconding.

Seventeen other accused in the case are in custody.

Mr. Sinha told the Court that he investigated "this conspiracy case" and escape of Mir Laik Ali. He had filed the charge-sheet against the accused, nine of whom, who were absconding, were: Mir Laik Ali, Zakiuddin, Abdul Qavi, Mr. B. C. Meyres, Mrs. Laik Ali, Miss Laika, Miss Saidia, Moinuddin (dohbi of Mir Laik Ali), Ibrahim (butler of Mir Laik Ali).

After the charge sheet had been filed, Mr. Sinha said, warrants were issued from the Court of the Special Judge as regards these nine absconding persons, and he received these warrants for execution or service and return.

"PAKISTAN NATIONAL"

He had found during his investigation that Mir Laik Ali had absconded to Karachi on March 4, 1950 at 7-30 a.m. from Santa Cruz airport, Bombay, under the assumed name of Mohammed Ali, a Pakistan national. He had verified this in Bombay, Mr. Sinha said.

Mr. Sinha added that B. C. Meyres, an American engineer, had also gone along with Mir Laik Ali in the same aircraft to Karachi.

Zakiuddin and Abdul Qavi absconded to Pakistan on March 4 last from the Princess Dock, by ship, Mr. Sinha said.

Miss Laika, eldest daughter of Mr. Laik Ali, also left for Karachi with her father by the same aircraft on March last under the assumed name of Miss Fatima, while Miss Saidia, Mr. Laik Ali's second daughter also left for Karachi by ship on the same day along with Zakiuddin and Abdul Qavi.

Mrs. Laik Ali left for Karachi from Santa Cruz airport, Bombay, by an Air India plane on March 5 last under the assumed name of Mrs. Jeelan.

Mr. Sinha added that all these seven accused were now in Pakistan.

NO TRACE OF REMAINING TWO

As regards the other two accused, namely, Moinuddin, dohbi of Mir Laik Ali, and Ibrahim, butler, they had absconded from Hyderabad and were concealing their presence and avoiding apprehension, Mr. Sinha said he had sent Inspector Krishna Rao to Madras, Inspector More to Bombay and Sub-Inspector Patrole to Bangalore, but there was no trace of these accused. They returned with the report that the two accused were not traceable.

Sub-Inspector Ganesh Prasad, said Mr. Sinha, was deputed to trace out the accused in Hyderabad, but he also had reported that they could not be traced.

"From my enquiries I found that there is no immediate prospect of arresting the above-mentioned nine persons," Mr. Sinha said.

Moments Of Recreation

In the recreation rooms of the Territorial Army camps a variety of indoor games is provided. In a happy atmosphere of camaraderie the recruits gather and play the particular game they like.

SEVEN PERSONS ARRESTED

Sewri Ordnance Theft Echo

BOMBAY, Friday.

Following up the investigation in the Sewri Ordnance Depot theft case in which electrical goods worth Rs. 40,000 were stolen, the police have arrested seven persons, five of them being employees of the Depot. The police have recovered some quantities of costly high powered amplifiers from the residence of one Fernandes and Keshav who had been arrested previously.

Shrinivas David, a technician of the Depot who is one of the arrested persons pointed out a place in the Ordnance Depot where he, in conjunction with J. G. Moses, had destroyed the boxes in which some stolen articles had been stored. Some of the pieces of the boxes with the markings had been deliberately nailed under the planks of a wooden structure in the Depot.

The other arrested persons are More-shwar Chaturbhuj Narayan and Ram-chandra Bhojram, who was an assistant to the former. Chaturbhuj was in charge of the Stock Department, while Keshav was his superior officer. The police have also arrested Abdul Razak and Abdul Kader, the latter being a civilian transport driver who used to smuggle out stolen articles in his truck from the Depot.

Devasarajan Ramswarup and Prashant Govind Kulkarni, who were in charge of the Workshop Department used to remove the stolen goods to their Department from where Razak and Shah Jehan who have also been arrested managed to remove the goods.

The gate-keeper whose name the police have not disclosed gave all the accused his active co-operation in the commission of the thefts. Enquiries reveal that the gang was operating in the Depot in an organised manner. The illegal proceeds of the thefts used to be divided largely among David Shah Jehan and Moses, while a smaller portion of the proceeds was shared among the other accused.

Police investigation disclosed that the stolen articles were being systematically disguised, one of the methods employed being to spray-paint the goods and remove the numbers. Police have also been able to locate the place where the spray-painting was being carried out, and articles wrapped up in freshly printed covers.

Assistant Commissioner Deshpande, Superintendent Pedekar, Inspector Khan, and D. I. Basil Kane, and S. I. Patil, assisted by Captain Mani of the Ordnance Depot are conducting the investigations.

The March Of The Territorial Army

A Life Of Regularity And Discipline

THE CITIZEN-SOLDIER IS PUTTING HIS BEST

BOMBAY, Friday.

SEVERAL Provincial Units of the Territorial Army including those in Bombay State are finishing their recruit training at their respective camps, and the men will be soon returning to their villages to resume their normal avocations.

The first impression that a visitor to the camps got was that the "raw material" that the country can provide is excellent. All that the Army has to do is to put it into shape by giving it the necessary training.

The wiry, tough villager took to camp life with zest and liked it. In this newly-donned uniform he looked smart, and the life of regularity and discipline toned up his physique. He looked healthier after his "three months' stay in camp than when he joined it.

He was quick to learn too, for at the end of his training he had attained considerable proficiency in the handling of arms and was quick and alert on the parade ground. Although on one of the ceremonial occasions the march past was not as good as that of seasoned troops, one could see that the new citizen-soldier was putting his best foot forward.

RECREATION

The camps combined rigorous military training with ample scope for games and sports and it was on the playing field that the men came into their own from the very start. Kabaddi and wrestling were familiar and indigenous but even in other sports his natural athletic temperament served him well.

When the Army C-in-C, General K. M. Cariappa, visited one of the camps he had a word of praise for the Territorial Army—and a word of advice.

He was glad, he said, to find that the recruits, who were drawn from different classes and creeds, worked together in a spirit of understanding. He asked them to carry the same spirit of unity and harmony back with them to the villages, to which they would be returning after their training.

Going back to their villages the men carry with them memories of a happy camp life during which many of them made friendships that might endure. When a group of them was asked how they liked it, they chorused "very interesting." They were already looking forward to the next annual camp.

IN A CHINA SHOP

By Faurus

SOMETHING has happened that reminds me of an old story that I had read some years ago. Let me first tell the story. A young son of a leading tradesman desired to learn the trade. His father had taken it up from his father and so on to the fifth generation. So why should he lose this opportunity? He approached his father but, as the old man put it, his hair had not grown grey through using these fancy pomades. The old gentleman did not wish to see his money pass away. But he found a way. He apprenticed the boy to an uncle who was sufficiently distant and whose fortunes interested no one in particular. After six months the boy returned home. His uncle's stamina was less than they had expected. He was completely dished and all on account of apprentice's adherence to the maxims of business. A little thing like honesty is a costly policy had led the lad into showing customers all the invoices. Well, that was that. But today as I was saying truth has been proved stranger than fiction. I do not apologise for the language of what follows. The writer is as illiterate as he is unintelligent but he deserves at least one hearing.

"Do unto others as you be done by them" habit, that my father drilled into me when I was able to make out the right from the wrong, and which I unhesitatingly state I have religiously clung to, has been mutual to become effective. If you know what I mean. Having resisted all temptations, great and small, throughout these years, I just did another of those good deeds the other night. Never having coveted the other person's property, however small, I handed rather a costly package to the station master of the suburban place where I stay. Being the last one to get down from the little first class compartment my attention was attracted by a neatly wrapped brown paper package that was lying prominently on the luggage rack above the opposite seat. I quickly examined the contents and what I found would have gone to cover eleven of those mugs who lose their proverbial shirts on our racecourse. Eleven tubularised white poplin shirts with the tale-tell label of one of the posh tailoring firms on the collar of each of them were there before me. I quickly sought out the station master in charge and handed the precious package to the dignitary. The next day I inquired from some fellow passengers if they had lost their shirts. Knowing full well how their legs were being pulled during the last racing season, they quickly retorted that there would be no chance of their losing any shirts until next August, that is when the Poonas season starts. When I related the incident of the previous night, they looked upon me with reverential awe at least that is what it looked like to me. They thought I was a man from the other world, at least a different world. They just said that I would soon find out how mistaken I was when I thought that the habit that I had formed in my childhood would one day benefit me. How true, now true! Yesterday I had with me a parcel for which I had paid practically my entire pay-envelope. Unfortunately I left it the same way as the other chap left it some days back. But when I went about looking for one lost property office to the other, the only answer I got was a "no." Now you know what I mean by the habit having to be mutual to be effective.

DR. AMBEDKAR'S QUEST IN CEYLON

To Discover The "Dynamics" Of Buddhism

KANDY, May 26. (PTI.)

A REVIVAL of Buddhism was discussed here yesterday by Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, Law Member of the Indian Government, when delegates from 27 countries gathered in the Temple of the Tooth to inaugurate a World Fellowship of Buddhists.

Dr. Ambedkar declined to speak at the official session, but addressed the delegates after the adoption of a resolution inaugurating the Fellowship.

He said there were people in India who thought that the time had come when the effort might be made to revive Buddhism.

One objective was to see Buddhist ceremonials and rituals which the people of India had no means of witnessing.

Dr. Ambedkar said his object was "to find out to what extent the religion is observed in its pristine purity and to what extent its people had been encrusted with beliefs incongruous with its doctrine."

WAS IT A LIVE THING?

He was also interested, he said, in finding out to what extent the religion of Buddha was "a live thing," whether it existed merely because the people of Ceylon "happen to be Buddhists" in the traditional sense of the word. I am here to find out to what extent there is dynamics in the Buddhist religion as far as the people of this country are concerned.
